Mary Kay: Hi, Dave. So what’s a Skill Inventory?.

David Powell: A Skill Inventory is a list of skills or competencies that an individual possesses. In many fields, skill inventories are used as self-assessment tools. The goal of a skill inventory is to identify one's skills, prioritize them according to one's interest levels, and assess where improvements can be made for both the benefit of the individual and the organization. A skill inventory also can be used for career exploration and professional development.

Mary Kay: Thanks, Dave. Have a great afternoon.

Dave: You, too. Talk to you soon.

Mary Kay: This is Mary Kay Lofurno, Marketing Director at SyberWorks. Thanks for listening to Episode 125 of the e-Learning Lingo Podcast. This week Dave Powell talked about Skill Inventory. The Episode 125 podcast audio and transcript will be posted on the e-Learning Lingo Podcast blog. Next time on the e-Learning Lingo Podcast, we'll talk about a term used in electronic communications.
