Mary Kay: All right Dave, tell us about A-B-C Summarizing.

David Powell: A-B-C Summarizing is a review format in which each of the students in a class is assigned a different letter of the alphabet. They then choose a term that starts with that letter, that is related to the topic being studied. To make this activity more challenging, the instructor can ask each student to generate a different term for each letter of the alphabet that pertains to the topic being studied.

Mary Kay: All right, sounds good Dave. Have an awesome day!

Dave: You, too. Talk to you soon.
