Mary Kay: All right Dave. So tell us about the organic model.

David Powell: The organic model is an educational reform movement in which teachers collaborate to govern internal school policies. It is championed by those who feel that teachers are more adept at creating and implementing these policies as opposed to simply following the guidelines that are created externally by policy makers who are not typically involved in the day to day activities of the classroom.

Mary Kay: OK Dave, well that sounds good. It's been nice talking to you, have a nice afternoon.

Dave: You, too. Talk to you soon.

Mary Kay: This is Mary Kay Lofurno, Marketing Director at SyberWorks. Thanks for listening to episode 129 of the e-Learning Lingo Podcast. This week Dave Powell talked about the organic model. This episode 129 audio and transcript will be posted on the e-Learning Lingo Podcast blog. Next time on the e-Learning Lingo Podcast, we'll talk about a term used in problem solving. Until that time, have a great day.

Until that time, have a great week!
